G'wood will respect Maggie Ring's wishes regarding park land

But contract signing is delayed

By ALISON ALOISIO

Maggie Ring, unhappy with recent controversy about a park that will bear her name, told Greenwood's Park and Trail Committee last week she wanted "things done peacefully."

By the end of the meeting, it appeared the octogenarian had what she wanted. The committee voted unanimously to abide by her stipulations for use of the park.

At the annual Town Meeting in March, Greenwood voters approved $16,800 to purchase 84 acres of land from Ring, who offered it at the low price to preserve it from development and provide hiking trails for the public.

The committee was formed to oversee trail planning, vehicle parking and other work. But after discussion at the group's first meeting last month turned to possibly seeking grant funds for the work — and potentially using

Selectmen reject call for subdivision moratorium

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Greenwood officials readily acknowledge the town has not been dealing effectively with the recent flurry of subdivision applications, but the selectmen decided Tuesday that a moratorium is not the way to correct the situation.

Up until two years ago things had been very quiet on the development front in Greenwood.

In fact, it had been several years since the Planning Board had even seen a subdivision application, according to board Chairman Rodney Westleigh.

But the current real estate boom changes all that. In the last two years the board has looked at a half dozen such applications, Westleigh said.

He summed up the current situation for the select-

Woodstock calls meeting to raise additional funds

Fire chief resigns

By ALISON ALOISIO

Woodstock selectmen Tuesday voted to hold a special Town Meeting Aug. 3 to consider raising about $20,000 to cover unanticipated expenses.

The meeting will take place at 6 p.m. at the Town Office. Articles for consideration by voters include:

To raise and appropriate $3,843.24 to cover the unexpected additional cost of health insurance coverage for the town's full-time employees.

To raise and appropriate $7,600 to cover unanticipated expenses incurred in completing the addition to the Fire Station.

To raise and appropriate $3,000 for the Fire Department to purchase needed compressed air cylinders.

To raise and appropriate an additional $6,000 for the heating oil and diesel accounts.

The additional funds needed for the fire station work arose from costs for engineering design and concrete work, Town Manager Vern Maxfield said.

As tiny North Newry church turns 100, congregation dwindles to a handful

By ALISON ALOISIO

On Aug. 8, the Newry Community Church will observe 100 years of worship, but the early 21st century finds the tiny congregation wondering what the future holds.

One hundred years ago North Newry was a busy place in the summer, as visitors came to stay at places like the nearby Poplar Tavern.

But the visitors are long gone, and with them many younger residents, who joined the decades-long exodus from rural Maine.

As a result, next month's anniversary will be a time to take both a nostalgic look backward and a hopeful, but uncertain, look forward.

History

Before 1904, the people of North Newry gathered at the Branch School House to worship. A minister traveled up from Newry Corner, which at the time had its own church.

As time went by, some of the citizens felt North Newry should have its own church building. A student minister who was serving the congregation, Edville Roys, played a key role in moving the project forward, according to a church history compiled in 1954 by Carrie Wight.

Wight describes the fundraising for the new building: "Cash contributions were

'We are sad to say now that the Newry Church is very slightly attended. But God and His Son are still here. What better could we ask for?'

PASTOR RODNEY HANSCOM

solicited and the response was gratifying. One of the good ladies, Mrs. M.L. Thurston, approached a prominent man in Bethel who tried to discourage her, saying it was useless for the few people here to think of building a church. He told her that when she had raised a certain amount that he would match it. The story goes that in a few days he was asked to keep his promise.

"The subscriptions, though seemingly small today, were generous people giving according to their means. The subscribers included many who summered at the Poplar Hotel. The subscriptions totaled $890.29. This with the lumber, the labor and the untiring efforts of the Ladies Circle met the cost of the church.

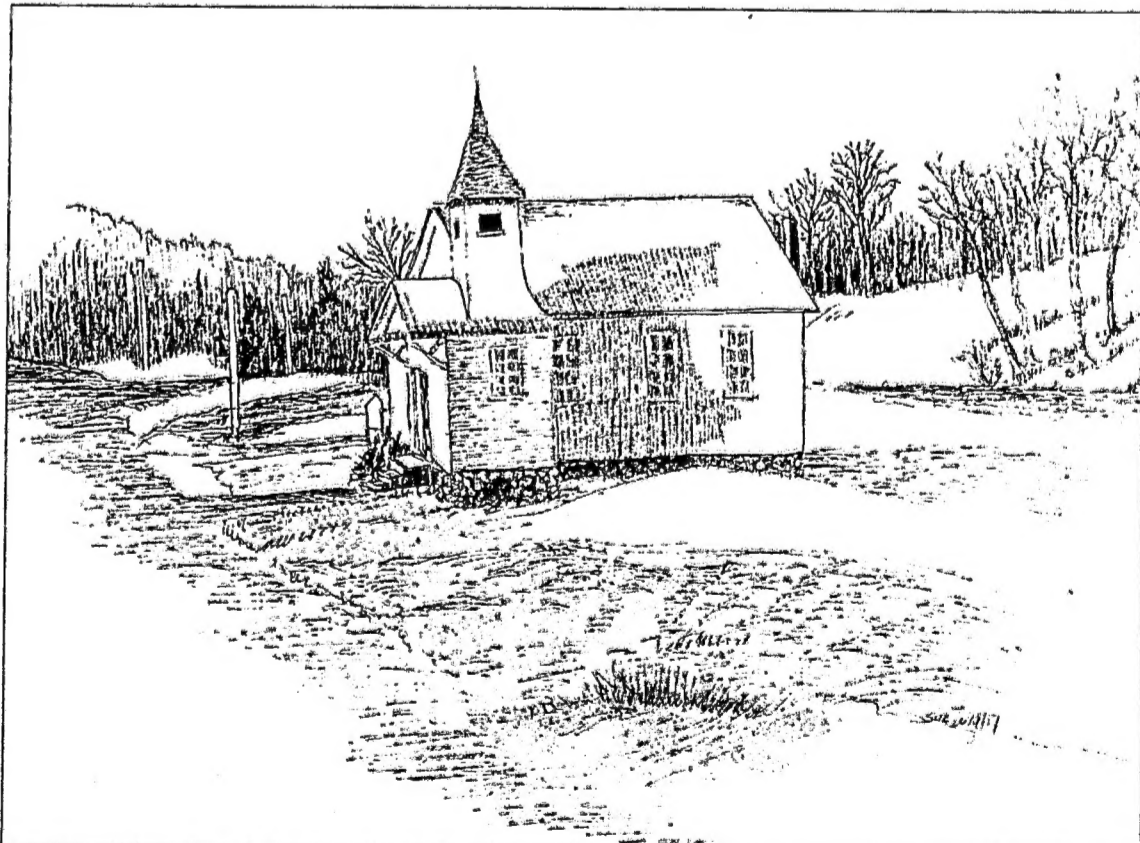

"Much of the labor was volunteered and was done during the spring farming and the summer haying season. But the men gave unstintingly of their time."

Once built, the church served people from Newry as well as Upton, Wilson Mills and Magalloway. Bethel church ministers preached occasionally, as did student ministers.

The church also received financial support through the years from umbrella organizations representing a variety of denominations.

Hut trail steps closer to reality

ASSOCIATED PRESS

After the raspberry thorns and old, sun-bleached wood piles from some forgotten timber operation were left behind, the hot stones appeared like a staircase leading to a wilderness reprieve, maybe even a promised land.

On one of the larger boulders, Larry Warren stood and looked out to Old Speck Mountain and the rolling green hills to the north of Bethel.

Warren had never been to this remote spot.

But standing at the elevated plateau, Warren considered the site — and what could be.

As president of the Western Mountains Foundation, he does that a lot.

After four years of work, Warren believes he is close to acquiring nearly 100 miles of a 180-mile multi-use trail that is expected to cut across Maine's western woodlands, offering generations to come a unique mountain path that will be connected by 12 sizable cabins for outdoor travelers trekking from the Mahoosuc mountains to Moosehead Lake.

The Maine Huts and Trails system will cost $9 million. Warren said as much as $8 million of the total is expected to come from fundraising efforts.

The project is modeled after the Appalachian Mountain Club's rustic cabins in the White Mountains and Colorado's 10th Mountain Division retreats in the Rocky Mountains.

But the bold vision of such a long-distance hut-and-trail system is mostly unheard-of in the United States.

"There are few hut-and-trail opportunities in North America. But they are prolific in Europe," Warren said. "The Norwegians have created a destination area. The Swedes do the same thing. But in the U.S., there are very few opportunities for people-pow-

MOLLYOCKETT DAY THANKS

To the Editor:

The Mahoosuc Arts Council would like to acknowledge and thank all of the individuals and businesses that contributed to making Mollyockett Day a wonderful day this year. The weather held until early evening and except for the parade's wrong turn, everything went well.

BethAnne Haines presided over the day's events as Princess Mollyockett. The crowning of Princess Mollyockett this year was done by former "Princesses" Jackie Schuesler, 1966 and Amy Gaidis, 2003.

All of the entrants in this year's "Folk and Fairy Tales" parade are to be commended for their efforts. Thanks to Chadbourne Tree Farms for being the parade sponsor, to Scott Cole and Peter Mason, for its coordination. "Princess" Mollyockett and her escort, Adam Tanguay, were transported by Jerry Greenwell.

If you enjoyed the entertainment that took place all day long on the common, you may thank the folks at The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, The Bethel Area Development Corp., The Bethel Inn & Country Club, Sunday River Golf Club, The Java House, The Kelleys, Norway Savings Bank, Oxford Networks, The Rotary Club of Bethel, Savage Contracting for their contributions.

The traditional fireworks display that caps off the day's events was made possible by Dick and Gretchen Rasor and Les and Chris Otten.

Local businesses also support Mollyockett Day by advertising in the annual Mollyockett Day booklet printed by Inman Printing. The artwork for the Mollyockett T-shirt design this year was provided by the father and son team of Tim Kavanagh and Cailin Kavanagh.

Congratulations to Brandy Cordwell, winner of the Mollyockett Day Treasure Hunt sponsored by the Bethel Citizen. Special thanks for helping with our popular fried dough booth and cleanup goes to Sunday River Ski Resort, Reggie Brown, Les Thurston and MainGas, George Lefebvre and the Mt. Ops crew, Susan and Wayne Duplessis, Julie Hart, Christine Liberti, Linda Gamble, Nanette Cramton, Michaela O'Brien, Martha and Kirk Siegel, Les and Chris Otten, Cindy Hiebert, Mame Connors, Helen and Chris Davies, Leslie Moore, Pat Donovan, and Becky and Wayne Cummings.

The first ever Art Ironclad Chair Auction took place this year, directed by auctioneer David Murphy and volunteers, Joe and Joanna Drummond, Susan Herlihy, Cindy Millett and Gloria Arita.

Many bidders and onlookers including chairmaker, Reggie Brown, were on hand to witness their sale. Local artists who created these one-of-a-kind chairs were: Janet Black, Amy Chapman, Jewel Clark, Mame Connors, Gould Academy students, Ryoko Arai, Martina Vojtelova, Lauren Head, Cailin Kavanagh, Deb Lewis, Jim Mann, Sarah Shepley, Scott Smith, and Telstar Middle School students, Carey Boelsma, Britney Merrill, and Jessie Yasko.

Special thanks to the sponsors of the chairs whose support helped make the project possible: Café Di Cocoa Market & Bakery, Crossroads Diner & Deli, Designs, Finish Line Pizza, Hanley & Associates, Margaret Haberman, Mt. Mann, Pooh Corner Farm, Reggie Brown, Stone Mt. Mortgage, The Sudbury Inn, and Viewer's Choice Video. Behind the scenes providing essential support are: Blake MacKay, Pete Rackliffe, Jeff Sterling, Rebecca Ricker, Gould Academy's maintenance staff, D & E Sanitation, Doug Bennett & Son Septic Tank Cleaning Service, Olson's Tent Rentals, the Town of Bethel, and the Bethel Police Department.

We look forward to seeing you all on Mollyockett Day, Saturday, July 16, 2005.

NEWTON'S STORE (white building, center) circa 1910.

A REMARKABLE INSTITUTION AT BEAN'S CORNER

To the Editor:

To my mind, growing up in East Bethel in the 1940s and 1950s appears as an idyllic adventure. We had the East Bethel School, where in one room, Mina Stevens, then in her late sixties, so capably provided the basis for all later learning with few resources except her creativity and hard work. There was the historic East Bethel Church, where we attended Sunday School and later Vacation Bible School. We also kept a close eye on what went on at the East Bethel Cemetery, especially at Memorial time when the veterans came and fired their rifles to honor the dead. My father was the cemetery sexton, so I often helped him dig graves and fill in sinking lots. As a result, the children of my generation witnessed the cycle of life as citizens here had for generations, the birth of siblings and farm animals and in the end people of the community being laid to eternal rest at the cemetery after a busy life. Most of the residents of the community lived on farms and carried on a varied level of agricultural operations.

Few were very prosperous during that time in monetary terms, but we were wealthy with the quality of the people in the community and the experiences offered by country living. We spent much time building our forts in the woods, constructing tree houses in tall pines, swimming in Otter Brook, doing our farm chores, working in gardens and hayfields, picking berries in season, exploring cellar holes in the woods, and paddling our home-made boat around the pond across from our house. We had 4-H meetings, Grange suppers, family reunions, and neighborhood gatherings. On rainy days, we always had our books, games, toys and puzzles. We knew everyone in the vicinity and they were an essential part of our community experience.

The demolition of the former Newton's Store building at Bean's Corner in East Bethel last week brings to mind all kinds of memories regarding a remarkable "institution" that left a vivid impression upon my early life. Maggie Newton operated the store from this location for approximately forty years (from the 1920s to the 1960s). During that time, she touched countless lives with her stories and humor. A plump lady with straight gray hair, she kept a store overflowing with merchandise. There was only a narrow path through the goods. One could cut his or her own cheese here, stop at the soft drink cooler for a root beer (my favorite in those days), or select penny candy. There was a wood stove with nail keg seats around it and a molasses tap to refill one's container. In back of the overloaded counter was a storage room where one time Maggie, while hunting for something else in the 1950s, found a quantity of socks she had bought thirty years earlier. There wasn't much she didn't carry if she could find it. Sometimes one waited ten or fifteen minutes while she tracked down the requested item.

In her role as storekeeper, Maggie heard lots of news and shared it with her customers. My father was a favorite of hers. He and Maggie would talk over all kinds of things while my brother and I waited impatiently. How many times we learned what was going on in the community from Maggie.

The store was also quite often a place we stopped at on our walk home from school for candy and sometimes things my mother asked me to pick up. Maggie was also one of the first people in the community to own a television set. In the mid-1950s, she invited my brother and me to watch "Howdy Doody" in her kitchen, which was just off the store. I recall many happy times taking in the adventures of Howdy, Buffalo Bob, Mr. Bluster, and that famous clown.

Following the blizzard of '52, my father, brother, and I spent seemingly hours shoveling to get the car out so we could go to Maggie's to buy valentine cards for our school friends. I vividly recall how high the banks were on that half mile to the store and how good it was to see Maggie as a friendly face and enjoy the warmth of the store both physically and psychologically.

The following year, during the flood of '53, my father launched a boat from our neighbor's to get some necessary supplies at Maggie's since the Otter Brook bridge was washed out and the road was impassable. For a 9 year old, it was a heady trip through all the currents and raging waters to Maggie's. Nevertheless, visiting the store at that time was especially reassuring despite all the havoc. It was important to us that Maggie was still there and at least some part of the world as we had come to know it would always be secure and safe.

Regrettably, the store closed while I was in college. Maggie got sick and could not continue. Her son tried his hand at operating it, but never loved it the way his mother did. It soon ceased operations forever. Maggie lingered on until her death in 1970. I recall visiting her at least once during those years. Her humor and interest in people were still intact, but she was bedridden, which must have been especially painful for her as she was always active all her life.

Finally, I remember attending an outdoor slide show on the lawn beside the store. I had never seen slides before and don't recall the exact topic, but recall views of East Bethel with several interior and exterior shots of Maggie and her store. How much I would like to see that show again to refresh my memory of times past and renew ties with a childhood spent in a remarkable place with such unforgettable people as Maggie.

SHARE OUR HERITAGE AT THE FESTIVAL DU BOIS

To the Editor:

The Northern Forest Heritage Park is proud to tell the stories of the working forest and the rich cultural diversity found in our region. A dedicated group of volunteers has worked for months to produce a unique festival in celebration of the woods, arts, music, dance and the Franco-American culture. Dedicated community members, artists, staff and trustees this Saturday, July 24 are offering their time and talents to the community to perpetuate our rich cultural heritage.

This is an open invitation to all members of the Northern Forest communities to come together in a celebration of our forests, our heritage and the sharing of both with the next generation. The often forgotten quote, "It is the duty of the present to bring the voice of the past to the ears of the future," should be our inspiration. The many months of intense work is diluted if the youth of our communities does not attend. For the first time, young musicians will join in the Soiree Canadien at the Festival du Bois playing traditional tunes as passed to the next generation through the efforts of local Franco-American musician Bob Baillargeon.

The committee has developed a wonderful program for youngsters to find enjoyment in the day. From a scavenger hunt, face-painting, building twig boats, creating murals, arts and crafts, to the antics of Bobo the Clown, children will have fun. Children will be fascinated with a northern forest wildlife exhibit, Unique Preservation of Nature by Nash, and blacksmith demonstrations by Matt Emery. How many of us remember our family reunions as youth with our aunts and uncles picking up a fiddle, accordion or spoons to entertain us while our parents through the example of family fun taught us the art of clogging? The Festival du Bois offers us this unique opportunity to share our heritage with the next generation. Whether of Franco-American heritage or not, the heritage of family and communities coming together in celebration is universal.

The Northern Forest Heritage Park wants to encourage family participation in our programming. A modest admission of $10 for adults and $5 for children age 6-12 offers a full day of fun. Each child attending the festival will be issued a scenic heritage boat pass valued at $5 valid from July 27 through the end of the season. Parents and grandparents will then have a future opportunity to share the rich heritage stories of the Androscoggin River and the days of the log drives with their children and grandchildren. What better gift to give to our youth, than to share in the pride of their rich heritage?

Throughout the past months, many of you have asked, "How can we help the Park?". It is really quite simple. Join us for a fun-packed day at the Festival du Bois. Or join us for the Thursday afternoon Artist in the Garden Series, or the Thursday evening Fireside Lecture Series. Think of the Park as a destination when you have visitors for a Scenic Heritage Boat Tour or to visit the Logging Camp Interpretive Center and Brown Company House Museum. Think of the unique offerings of local artists and artisans in the Artisans Gift Shop when in need of gifts. Think of the Park as a possibility for hosting meetings, or chartering the boat for an outing with friends, family or business associates. Or, think of the Park for a tax-deductible donation to further perpetuate the stories of the forest and our rich heritage.

The Northern Forest Heritage Park is yours. It is a representation of your community, a beacon of light to share the true spirit of the region with the rest of the world. Each of us individually and together as a greater northern forest community can and will make a difference.

It will be an honor to see you and your families in celebration of our community and heritage at the Festival du Bois, on Saturday, July 24.

Jean Boutin
Administrator, Northern Forest Heritage Park, Berlin, NH

Lightning strikes village home

BETHEL — Lightning struck the home of Ted and Linda Davis in Bethel Village Tuesday morning, causing electrical damage. Ted Davis said lightning apparently hit a chain link fence that stretches around their backyard. The fence attaches to both ends of the house, and the current from the strike entered the home from both directions. At one end it blew off an asbestos shingle and entered the house, cracking the wall inside and destroyed a nearby television. At the other end, the lightning destroyed an electric garage door opener and a computer in the basement. There was no fire. The lightning struck during a strong storm accompanied by heavy rains.

Hearing in Gilead

GILEAD — A public hearing will take place Saturday at the Gilead Town Hall to discuss three issues: possible action by selectmen on Steve Caswell's subdivision; the possible purchase of land by the Androscoggin River that is now the boat landing; and the possible purchase of property, owned by Gerald Loring, next to the Town Hall.

Woman dies in Route 26 crash

PARIS — A Waterford woman died Tuesday in a head-on collision on Route 26. Rita Lovejoy, 69, was northbound around 6 a.m. when her 1999 Plymouth Breeze crossed the center line and hit a pickup truck driven by Robert Murphy of Peru. Lovejoy died at the scene, while Murphy received minor injuries. It was not known why Lovejoy crossed the line. Officials speculated it might have involved a medical condition. Both drivers were wearing seat belts.

Newry inks fire truck contract

NEWRY — Selectmen Monday signed a contract with the Metz Co. to buy a new ladder truck for the Newry Fire Department. The purchase of the $670,000 truck was approved by voters at the annual Town Meeting in March. The truck replaces a 1970 ladder truck that can no longer be used because the ladder is not safe. The contract provides for delivery of the new vehicle, yet to be built, within the next year. In the meantime, the town will have use of a ladder truck from Metz that is expected to be available in the near future.

Plan implementers needed

GREENWOOD — The Town of Greenwood has openings on the Comprehensive Plan Implementation Committee. Any resident interested in serving on the committee is asked to contact Town Manager Kim Sparks at the Town Office at 875-2773.

East B Road to be closed

ANDOVER — The East "B" Hill Road will be closed from Aug. 2 through 7, according to the Maine Department of Transportation's Dixfield office. MDOT will be working on a bridge construction project.

Pilot unhurt in river crash

FRYEBURG — A pilot who took off from Laconia, N.H., was unhurt when his light plane crashed into the Saco River at around 11 a.m. last Friday, state police said. The pilot, Paul Harris of Wolfeboro, N.H., was flying alone. Harris walked from the crash site to the nearby Indian River campground to call authorities, leaving the plane upside-down in the river, said Stephen McCausland, spokesman for the Department of Public Safety.

Garden tour in Upton

UPTON — Joy Yarnell will open her garden Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. for part of a garden tour sponsored by the Mahosuc Land Trust. Yarnell is a past winner of the New England Wildflower Society's Katharine S. Taylor Private Garden Award. Two other Upton gardeners will also open their gardens — Jennifer Casey (featuring a garden and landscape in progress), and Ellie Le Comte (a lakeside garden and wildflower arranging). Anyone wishing to attend should go directly to Yarnell's at 508 Mill Road. The cost is $10 per person, to benefit the land trust. Visitors are asked to bring a picnic lunch. Drinks and dessert will be provided. For more information call 824-2686.

Higher taxes for territory lakefront

ABBOT — Valuations of waterfront real estate in Maine's unorganized territories could rise by as much as 60 percent this year, spelling higher property taxes for owners of lakefront land, a state official says. Increases in this year's tax bills will be the first in a number of years to reflect the rising values of waterfront land in the unorganized territories, which encompass more than 10 million forested acres. "Waterfront values in the unorganized territories will be going up 15 percent to 60 percent depending upon which lake it is and what the market is doing in the area," according to Bob Doiron, who heads the unorganized territories property tax division of Maine Revenue Services. Nearly all properties in the unorganized territories were increased last year, Doiron said, but this is the first time in several years that waterfront property values have been increased in response to the market. To determine the new valuations, the state reviewed recent sales of similar properties and then estimated what properties most likely would sell for in a competitive marketplace. "We hope the new values are bringing us near the market value," Doiron said. "Our main concern isn't necessarily hitting 100 percent but getting the different classes of property (in the unorganized territories) in reasonable equity."

From the Bethel Police Log:

Saturday, July 17

At 12:48 a.m. Officer Ovide Richard responded to a business for a reported fight in the parking lot. A subject at the scene said a second subject had assaulted him. The second subject admitted he had pinned the first to the ground. Peter Gordon, 25, was given a citation for assault.

Friday, July 16

At 6:42 p.m. Officer Shane Thomas responded to a report of a vehicle driving erratically northbound on Songo Pond Road. The vehicle was located and stopped. A citation was issued to Drew S. Donabedian, 21, of North Conway, N.H. for possession of a usable amount of marijuana.

At 5:40 p.m. Officer Shane Thomas received a report that a county deputy was trying to stop a vehicle for operating at a high rate of speed northbound on Route 26. As the Bethel officer drove south, the deputy reported he was engaged in a high-speed chase, and shortly afterward the vehicle turned on to Route 232. The vehicle then crashed at the intersection of Gore Road and Route 232. The Bethel officer arrived on scene shortly after, along with several other county officers and a state trooper. After assisting with traffic, the Bethel officer cleared.

Thursday, July 15

At 8:11 a.m. Officer Phil Taylor responded to a report of suspicious mail at the Post Office. On arrival he was shown a package wrapped in brown paper, with a white granular substance leaking from it. The Fire Department had been called because it was unknown if the material was hazardous. The Bethel officer then drove to the location to which the package was addressed to notify the resident, who had recently moved to the area and did not yet have a phone. The resident came to the Post Office and opened the package to verify that it contained salt, which a relative had sent for cooking purposes. A dozen cardboard salt shakers had been packed among four large cans of food, and about half the salt containers were crushed during mailing. The package was released to the addressee.

Park

it to create bicycling trails, a rock-climbing area and handicapped-access trails — Ring and some committee members objected.

Last Wednesday, about 20 people, including Ring, attended the second committee meeting and aired their views. Most spoke strongly in favor of abiding by Ring's wishes.

Paul Bartlett said any grant funds would also come with conditions and restrictions. He also said he opposed the idea of rock climbing and bicycling because such activities could cause erosion problems.

And, said Bartlett, "I think we need to go to the letter of what Maggie wanted."

Ring said she wanted hiking trails just wide enough "to have a place to put your feet."

Minimal trails would help keep the park quiet, allowing people to enjoy the wooded setting and "see what nature put there," she said.

She suggested three trails.

"One way up (to the top of the ridge), one halfway, and one dinky one for old ladies," she said.

The contract drawn up for the selectmen and Ring to sign stipulates improvements that include such plans as a parking lot and permanent outhouse facilities.

Ring said projects beyond those mentioned would constitute a breach of contract.

Selectman Ivan Roberts, director of the committee, said the earlier meeting's discussion had been just that — discussion, with no decisions made to pursue grants or build other features.

"I want what Maggie wants," he said, and if she did not want to seek grants, he would respect that wish.

Committee member Ron Smith agreed. "We haven't voted on anything as a committee. We talked about other options," he said.

Roberts said if there were to be no grant money, funds would have to be found elsewhere to pay for the improvements.

So far, $9,950 in private money has been donated toward the purchase of the land, according to Kim Sparks, town manager. A total of $10,700 was pledged.

Sparks said that money cannot be used toward improvements.

Roberts said town equipment could be used to create a parking lot — Ring suggested three or four spaces — but the time could not be charged to the road foreman's regular budget because no funds have been designated for that purpose.

Sparks said people may make other donations specifically for improvements.

The committee then voted unanimously to abide by the limits of the contract, and forego pursuing any grants for now.

Signing delayed

Ring had been scheduled to sign the contract with selectmen Tuesday, but she decided to delay in order to further refine the language with her lawyer, according to Sparks.

Church

Newry and attended the church as a boy.

Hanscom took over as pastor in 1974. While he was in the Army during World War II, he had assisted Army chaplains with services and other duties. After returning to the Bethel area, he served in a similar capacity at the Bethel Methodist Church.

His first sermon at the Newry church, in early October 1974, was built around a favorite poem about Christopher Columbus. He read sections of the poem, tying them to various Biblical passages.

It was well-received, he said, and he was on his way to become the church's longest-serving pastor. At that time, the congregation numbered about three dozen.

The years have included some memorable, and humorous, moments.

Hanscom recalls one woman who drove each Sunday from her home nearby to attend services.

Her dog would often follow the car to the church and wait for her.

But one Sunday, the dog "came in the back door of the church and came right up and sat beside me in the pulpit," said Hanscom.

"Everyone thought that was great. Apparently they thought the dog was more attractive than the minister was."

It wasn't the only time he would be visited by a four-legged parishioner.

In the 1990s, the church started holding an outdoor Easter Sunrise service at Mother Walker Falls in Gratton Notch. One year, a bull moose appeared near the road, just above the falls.

"He stayed there through the whole service, and held up traffic," remembers Hanscom.

In the 1980s, because of the shrinking membership and high heating costs, the church stopped meeting year-round. It now holds services from April through Thanksgiving.

Hanscom hopes the community church will find a way to carry on after he retires. For now, he takes it one Sunday at a time.

"We are sad to say now that the Newry Church is very slightly attended," he said. "But God and His Son are still here. What better could we ask for?"

Woodstock

Officials had not anticipated the design work needed, and the concrete job ended up being larger than expected, he said.

New air cylinders are needed because new federal regulations do not allow air cylinders made in 1991 and before to be refilled. The town has 14 of the older model.

More money is needed for fuel expenses because of the increase in fuel costs. The $9,000 appropriated for the account for this year has already been spent, Maxfield said.

Selectmen decided against including an article to raise and appropriate $8,000 to have a radar-activated flashing warning light installed at the base of Merrifield Hill to warn drivers who are going too fast.

They decided such an issue would be better decided at an annual Town Meeting, when more residents are likely to attend.

Fire chief resigns

The selectmen also accepted the resignation of Fire Chief

Bill Seames.

In a four-sentence letter dated July 15 Seames said he resigned as chief, but planned to stay on the Fire Department and continue to serve as fire warden. He offered no explanation for leaving the position.

Seames had served as chief since 1992. Town Manager Vern Maxfield said he expects Fire Department members to choose a new chief in the near future. The person would then be officially appointed by selectmen.

Moratorium

men Tuesday: "We never got swamped with subdivisions before, but now we are and everybody is. 'Duh?'"

The selectmen, planners and other town officials have met at least three times recently to discuss the matter, but the conversations have been rambling, unproductive and often confused, especially regarding actual ordinance requirements, procedures, and enforcement responsibilities.

"We have a pretty good ordinance," said Code Enforcement Officer John Gauthier, "but not having used it for years we don't know what's in it."

Road Foreman Alan Seames put the matter a bit more bluntly: "Nobody reads the ordinance," he complained.

As a result of the confusion, the application of the ordinance has been inconsistent, even a bit slack.

For example, the ordinance requires that the town fire chief sign off on all subdivision applications, but Chief Ray Seames said, "I've never been asked to sign off in all the years I've been doing this. The law was on the books but never applied."

Seames said the current situation was not the result of any one individual or board dropping the ball.

"You can slide the blame in any direction," he said. "None of us has been as aggressive in attacking the problem in the last two years as we should have been. We could play the blame game forever and a day. We need to enforce the ordinances we have."

On that last point there was general agreement.

"Basically we have a good ordinance, but we have to enforce it," said selectman Wayne Hakala.

Board Chairman Fred Henderson agreed. "I'd like to see us get our act together," he said.

Moratorium dies

But Selectman Ivan Roberts

thought the town should take stronger action. He proposed enacting a 180-day (with the possibility of an extension by the selectmen) moratorium on all new subdivisions, including those currently under review.

The moratorium, Roberts argued, would give the town time to revise its ordinances to deal with the new realities of the real-estate market.

But Henderson and Hakala did not think such a move was warranted.

Henderson said a moratorium could create more problems than it solves.

"It tends to back things up and when it cuts loose you're in worse shape than before," he said.

Roberts made a motion proposing a moratorium, but it went unseconded.

The selectmen and planners have scheduled a workshop on the Subdivision Ordinance for Monday, July 26 at 7 p.m. in the Town Office.

Weekend visitors, at Norman Dock's were son Roger of Glastonbury, Conn., grand-daughter Heidi Moore Dock and great-grandson Boden James Dock of Auburn.

Caroline and Charlie Merrill recently spent time with Darlene Merrill at Pollard Brooke Resort, Lincoln, N.H.

Nancy Coan, formerly of NTL in Bethel, is spending one month house-sitting at Lorenzo Baker's.

Norman and Sylvia Clanton are pleased to have Dad Norm Clanton of San Antonio and his sister and husband Dee and Will Ulrich of Houston visiting a couple of weeks more. Family houseguests are eagerly expected next week.

Bob and Ginny Keniston returned Sunday after spending a week at Three Rivers Lodge, a fishing camp located in western Labrador, on the Woods River system, about 150 miles north of Labrador City. It was an eighteen-hundred-mile trip by auto and bush plane.

Ellie LeComte, Becky Kendall, Dottie Bartlett, Bob and Polly Davis enjoyed a gourmet breakfast at the Balsams last week. After leaving, the group toured the area with Ellie as guide. While checking out the new L.L. Cote's store in Errol, the group enjoyed a surprise visit with former Bethelites, Lawrence and Christine Bennett of Westbrook and Arlene Lyon of Falmouth, who had spent the night with Peter and Margaret Baker in Wilson's Mills.

David and Betsy Fox York formerly of South Paris have moved to Bethel and are temporarily living in an apartment on Church Street at the Brenda Wodka apartments. The Yorks are building a new home off the North West Bethel Road on the Bethel Reservoir Road. Welcome home to Bethel, David and Betsy.

Lee and Ginny Hutchins enjoyed a weekend visit with daughter and husband, Kelly and Mike Thibodeau and grandson, three-year-old Langdon, from Freeport. Their granddaughter, Kate Lee, daughter of Jill Hutchins, from Durham visited a day this week with her grandparents. Grandson, Langdon Thibodeau, accompanied her for the visit.

Musa Brown underwent heart surgery at CMMC in Lewiston last week and is now at Market Square Health Center in South Paris.

Hilda Brown has recently returned home after having gall bladder surgery at Maine Medical Center, Portland.

Linda MacDormand from Hampton, N.H. visited with George and Danna Nickerson and attended Mollycodd Day.

Lynn Mason and Bronson flew to Las Vegas to visit the people who raised Bronson, "Puppy Raiser." They sent plane tickets for Lynn because they wanted to see Bronson and to know how he is getting along. It was a long trip out and Bronson was without water and food for 18 hours. They enjoyed five days there before returning home.

We were blessed with pleasant weather over the weekend, which was just fine for the many activities in the "North Country." Monday morning, the Monsoon Season returned, cold, wet and altogether "yukky." RVs lined the parking lot at Mother Walker Falls in Grafton Notch on Saturday afternoon. The other parking lot at the Appalachian Trail was filled to capacity, also. John Metcalf, the park ranger, must have had his hands full with all these "Trail Stompers."

Mollycodd Day in Bethel was filled with activity. Sue Nelson and I missed the parade. We waited on the common, as we have in the past, but it took a different route this year. Our time was well spent chatting with Pat Stewart, the author of Mollycodd. It is a wonderful book. The cover depicting Mollycodd's woven purse is unique. I shall treasure my signed copy. What a wonderful Christmas present the book will make.

Becky Kendall, Polly and Bob Davis, Dot Bartlett and I enjoyed a wonderful breakfast at the Balsams Hotel Wednesday. On our return to Upton we did a little garden touring. There must have been a "Blood Drive" because the mosquitoes were ferocious. The monsters have abated some with the arrival of the dragonflies.

We have had many favorable comments on how good the cemetery, Ladies Aid and the church are cared for. All that rain and good care by Roger Lavalley and his elves make it a pleasant place. Speaking of cemeteries, the little cemetery in Grafton needs some major work. It is pretty scruffy looking.

Bev Swan of Andover kindly gave me copies of Flower Categories for the Andover Flower Show. I have some extra copies if anyone wishes to have one.

While at Mollycodd Day celebration we met up with about 20 Angevines and Steve Wight. Steve remarked that we had to leave Upton to find some "viable activity." Not so Steve. Sue and I left Upton on Saturday because the Olympic Trials for water ballet were being held at Lake Umbagog, and we didn't make the cut. I was rejected because of age and Sue got axed because she didn't have a bathing cap, so it was on to Bethel or Corbin Gore.

The "Bird of the Week" is not a bird. The hummingbird moth is our choice. Every year in July we welcome this sweet little creature visiting our gardens. They are similar to a large "bumble bee," but act like a hummingbird. Nectar is extracted from the flowers with a long recoiling tube. They do not whiz about like the hummers, but methodically visit each blossom. They seem tame but avoid any touch. The moth is quite capable of zipping through the air at 30 miles per hour. They are daytime fliers. The most interesting fact about the critter is even if you have not seen a mature hummingbird moth you may have seen it in its immature form. The horrible dragon-like tomato hornworms are the creature it emerges from. They feed on tomatoes, tobacco plants and potatoes. When the hornworm reaches its mature length of about three inches, it burrows into the soil and forms a "pupa." If the pupa makes it

The annual canoe trip from the Source to the Sea along the Androscoggin

River landed in Hanover on Monday, July 12, at Moran's Landing, for lunch supplied by Stony Brook Recreation and landing again to take out for the day at the Ferry Landing in Hanover Village. Tuesday morning about 30 watercraft put in at the Ferry Landing for the trip to Rumford. Tuesday was wooden boat day.

The large pine tree at the swimming area near the dam has a dead top. Because it is becoming a hazard, the tree will likely be taken down, creating a debate. Some feel the tree should be completely removed to ground level. Others think about 20 feet should be left standing and turned into a totem pole.

Last week, the D.A. Wilson crew graded the parking lot at the town office and the boat ramp. Another project completed was the cleaning out of the fire pond on Pond Stream by the Route 2 bridge. The buildup of sludge was removed and the rotted-out planking was replaced. The project had previously been given DEP approval.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

I spent this past weekend at war with the weeds that are dominating my beautiful flower gardens - the weeds are winning the war.

I really, really, really HATE weeding. It's a mind-numbing, backbreaking, knee-cramping job. Some misguided philosopher once said that work well done never needs doing over. I can guarantee you that Mr. Philosopher never did housework or weeded a garden.

The abundance of rain this summer has created the perfect growing conditions for weeds of all kinds. They thrive in the moist soil and the gardener can't get out in the rain to pull them. They seem to know this and take advantage of it. I am convinced that weeds, especially crabgrass grows at least 10 times faster than the average flower.

I think the weeds are having a worse effect on me than they are on my flower beds. They make me feel guilty every time I pass my aster garden on my way to the car. It's almost as if they're mocking me.

Their weedy little voices penetrate my brain. "Ha, ha, you're on your way to work, you can't touch us now in your nice clean clothes." And later in the day it's "Ha, ha, you can't touch us now because you have to cook a meal and do laundry."

By the time Saturday morning arrived sunny and dry, I was fed up with the laughing, noxious growths and decided to spend the day launching an all out attack in my "garden of weeden."

Some people believe in talking to their plants and I can understand that because I firmly believe in swearing at the weeds. After an hour or so of digging, pulling and cursing, I was quite amazed at how little progress I had made and how much my language skills had disintegrated.

I even started calling the weeds by name. Not their botanical names, which I don't know, but by the names of any person that I could think of who has ever caused me a moment's grief. Old classmates I didn't get along with - out! Ex-boyfriends of days gone by - out! Past bosses who had ever given me a hard time at work and even my husband for every disagreement we've ever had. Out they came and unceremoniously dumped on the weed heap.

I think the weeds are having a worse effect on me than they are on my flower beds.

There are those who feel that gardening is good therapy, and I can testify to the fact that weeding is definitely a good way of working out any aggressions you may have been suppressing.

I did reserve some sensitivity for the flowers that I inadvertently pulled out and promptly made an apology to, but for the weeds I held no restraints whatsoever.

Ralph Waldo Emerson said a weed is a plant whose virtues have not yet been discovered. I think he was wrong. The virtue of weeds that I discovered was a productive way to transfer any anger or hostility that one may have smoldering within.

As evening rolled around I was a very calm and serene individual. I didn't protest or say a single negative word throughout the evening even while Henry channel surfed the night away. Of course, I was close to comatose from a full day of weeding in the hot sun, but be that as it may, I was feeling no sense of aggression.

My aggression had been fully depleted on the crabgrass. What in heck was Mother Nature thinking when she came up with crabgrass? Was that a PMS day when she said, "I'm going to create a completely worthless, ugly plant that will grow under any conditions within nanoseconds."

I swear that I completely cleaned out an area of crabgrass growth only to see it growing again in the very same spot before I had even had the opportunity to discard its dead cousins.

When it comes to crabgrass I have to agree with columnist Dave Barry who once wrote, "Crabgrass can grow on bowling balls in airless rooms and there is no known way to kill it that doesn't involve nuclear weapons."

That also applies to bamboo of which my backyard has been taken over by. It's not a true bamboo, but that is what we call it in Maine when we aren't calling it something unprintable.

Once I found a gardening chat room on the Internet, and I asked if anyone knew how to get rid of bamboo. One answer was to call in the National Guard and request an air strike. Someone else suggested a good dose of Agent Orange. My favorite suggestion was just one word, "MOVE." I of course didn't and I still have the bamboo.

I guess I can take some comfort in knowing that weeds are the nemesis of everyone with a garden. Whether it's flowers or vegetables, we all work hard at trying to nurture the plants and rid the weeds in hopes of a bountiful harvest or aesthetic beauty.

The way I see it this war of the weeds will go on all summer and the best I can hope for is to keep one step ahead of the crabgrass and just "weed em and reap. Sorry, I couldn't resist.

9 a.m. Any new faces are more than welcome. Many thanks to all who helped this past weekend. I had a new experience; I used an electric sander for the first time. Boy did I feel the "Power."

I want to thank Ethan Allen, Inc. for their generous donation to the Town Hall Clock Restoration Fund, and also all of you who dropped money in the containers at the stores.

On Aug. 21, there will be a 50th Anniversary Party for Barbara and Malcolm Gross at their home on Route 2 in Hanover. It starts at noon; no gifts please. Their daughter, Lori McPherson, wants you all to please attend and I know you will have a great time. For further information, you can call Lori at 864-3145.

The theme for the Andover Historical Society's Flower Show this year is "A Walk Down Memory Lane." The categories are: Early Indians; Herbs and Grasses; Indian Trails; Wildflowers; Early Industries; Arrangements in wooden containers; Early Schools: 12 years and younger; Early Transportation: House plants; Early Organizations; Arrangements in a basket; Memories of a happy event: your choice; Early Town Meetings: Red, white and blue; Early Food Preparation: Cup and saucer; Early Homes Built: White flowers in antique containers; First Pioneers: Single specimens; Andover — Yesterday and Today: Arrangements using song title or poem; Early Sowers: Arrangement by professionals.

Mountain greenery and accessories permitted in all entries. Entries will be received between 5:30 and 8 p.m. Friday evening. Doors will be closed during judging. Doors will be open to the public 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday. Entries to be picked up between 4 (not earlier) and 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Awards will be given for 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and Honorable Mention, Best of Show and Judges Award. All decisions are final, and the judges may withhold awards at their discretion. The flower committee is not responsible for loss or breakage. Professional florists are invited to enter in the Early Transportation, First Pioneers, and Early Sowers categories only; these entries are not eligible for the Best of Show Award.

Make plans to enter your photos in the Olde Home Days Amateur Photo Exhibit and Contest. All photos must be submitted at the Town Hall no later than Aug. 4. Dates and times for bringing in your photos are Saturday, July 31, between 1 and 4 p.m., Monday, Aug. 2, between 5 and 7 p.m., and Wednesday, Aug. 4, between 4 and 8 p.m. No late photos will be accepted. Each photo must have a name, address and if you are under 17, your age printed on the reverse side of the photo. No photo will be accepted with a name on the photo side. No professionals please. The contest is strictly for amateurs. If you have already won a ribbon in any of the past exhibits, please do not submit that photo again. Framed or matted photos do not enhance the judging, but it does complement the exhibit. Only three photos per person for each subject, which are Animals, Landscapes, and Portraits. Group A: 17 years and older, color prints; Group B: 11 to 16 years, color prints; Group C: 10 years and younger, color prints; and Group D: black and white prints, all ages in one group collectively. All photos must be picked up between 4 and 5 p.m. on Aug. 7. We had a great turnout last year and hope to have an even greater one this year, so start snapping away.

The Snow Valley Diner has increased its hours. They are now open Sunday through Wednesday from 6 a.m. to 3 p.m., Thursday through Saturday from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Specials this week are: Thursday, meat loaf; Friday, stuffed shells; Saturday, hot dogs and beans; and Sunday, chicken pot pie. They also offer an all-you-can-eat breakfast buffet on Saturday and Sunday from 7 to 11 a.m.

The selectmen are looking for people who are interested in forming a committee to investigate different insurance programs. We really need help with this. If you are interested, please call the Town Office at 392-3302 for more information.

Something to think about this week. "Trust yourself. You know more than you think you do." See ya.

Judith Grover Tent 17, Daughters of Union Veterans, met at the home of Sally Sawyer on Monday, July 12, for a cookout and meeting. Eight members were present. Michelle Cary reported on the Department Convention. Five members of Tent 17 attended. A new tent was instituted at the convention from the Abbott-Dover-Foxcroft area. Twelve calls were made. Marybeth Hoover received the mystery box. A flag-burning ceremony was held. Next meeting is Aug. 9 at the Grange Hall.

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School and Adult Bible Fellowship at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 5:15 p.m. and evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. is prayer meeting. Thursday morning is Ladies Bible time at 9 a.m.

The Historical Society Flea Market was held July 10, with Vicki May organizing the event. Thanks, Vicki. About 60 people signed the guest book. At the evening meeting a video on Vermont called, "Let's go to the Farm," was supplied by Kathleen Bean and covered milking, maple sugar, logging, planting, hay and harvesting. The Aug. 14 meeting will be the annual picnic at the museum. Thanks, Annella, for working on the food sale. The society is looking forward to History Day, Aug. 7, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will be crafts in the parking lot, a food sale and museum tours. Plan to attend. The museum has a great collection of country furniture. Some made by the Indians, also pressed back and Hitchcock chairs, collectibles on shelves downstairs and a long table upstairs, quilts, costumes, china and glass, including peachblow, amberina, cranberry, Bristol, ruby, cobalt blue and custard.

East Stoneham

Hi readers. What a busy time in July. I knew it would be, but it's always a fun time. Our two daughters and families arrived Saturday, July 3. Cheryl and Paul Barnard and Josh, Jenna, Lindsey and friend, Kelly Hart, from Va., and Sharon and Howard Berman from Massachusetts were here for vacation. Sharon and Howard hosted a July 4 family barbecue at their cottage at Keewaydin Lake. It was a beautiful day, delicious food and lots of laughs were enjoyed by all. There were 13 of us there.

Granddaughter Nowal Traish is vacationing in Paris, France, with her father, and granddaughter Aisha Traish is beginning her fourth year of medical school at Boston University where she has been inducted into the Honor Society of Medical Students.

During the week Paula and John and Jenna, also Howard, had to leave to go home to their various jobs. But the girls stayed and enjoyed the rest of vacation with visiting and movies, A.J.'s, beach, etc.

We were pleased to learn that Jenna Barnard made the dean's list for the spring semester at Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Va. Also, Molly Nelson made the dean's list at her college in Massachusetts. She has since graduated and has a position in the Lewiston-Auburn area.

Granddaughter Lindsey Barnard made the varsity cheerleading squad for York High School. Aren't we lucky to have such good "kids" and "grandkids."

They also went to the fireworks in Rumford on the 4th, which they all enjoyed. Troy Nelson joined them there, for the fireworks and the cookout. Don't forget new Lions Club members and anyone interested in joining to come to the potluck supper and meeting at the Wilkins House in Waterford on July 21 at 6:30 p.m.

Vicky Jones Ferrell and husband Jerry of Rock Hill, S.C., spent a week recently with her mother, Marilyn Jones. While here they celebrated Marilyn's birthday by going to the Village Inn in Auburn. They were joined there by Dayle and Deanna Merchant and Kay and George Austin.

Vicky, Jerry and Marilyn went to Bar Harbor to visit Cathy Farley one day. Jerry, coming from South Carolina, had never seen the Maine coast. They stopped at Bath, Boothbay Harbor, Belfast, and Cadillac Mountain before returning home.

Chuck MacDonald has recently spent a week in Iowa for the John Deere Company. He is shop foreman at the James River John Deere dealership in Rock Hill, S.C. He loaned his truck to Vicky and Jerry so they could bring a load of furniture back to South Carolina.

JoAnn Hartford has been in the Market Square Nursing Home for rehab after being in Stephens Memorial Hospital. Frances Grant and Thelma Dadmun have been taking care of her cat while she was away. "Joe" was real glad to see JoAnn when she got home.

Loretta Andrews went to her doctor on Tuesday and the visiting nurse comes in every day to change her bandages and check on her. She is supposed to stay off her feet as much as possible, but I know that is hard to do at home where there is so much to do.

Work has started on Midge Silvio's new home. Work is progressing on Dickie Wentworth's new home up by Keewaydin Lake.

I can't believe my 60th class reunion is this weekend. It doesn't seem possible, but it is.

Terry Michols Nunes, DVM, called on us yesterday and treated "Priscilla," the cat. Something had bitten her on the neck out in the shed where she sleeps at night.

John Woodbury is having a new roof on his home. It seems there's a lot of work and repairs and improvements being done in Stoneham.

North Waterford Fair is July 23 to 25. Friday is Senior Citizens' Day for a free meal at noon. Shall we see you there?

Much sympathy to the family and many friends of Albert Penley Sr. who died this past week.

Albert was one of the nicest people I'll ever know and will be missed by all.

Making honors this last term at CPS: Emma Davis; TMS: Bailey Davis and Desman Cox; THS: Caitlin Shimamura and high honors, Alexis Grover. Honors at WES: Jonah Thurlow, Dylan Poland, Shawn Baker and Ciara Nadeau. Perfect attendance: Jonah Thurlow and Shawn Baker. Congratulations to all for good work.

Frank Frazer is doing a lot of improvements on his home here on the hill, siding, roofing and other. He's a very busy man and keeps his place looking real nice.

Murrill and Elizabeth Blazier have purchased a new red Buick. Real nice.

Richard and Frank Frazer went to Bridgton to watch our son Rick's house being set up. I haven't seen it but hear it is a very nice home to be.

Bo Cox and Richard mowed Cleo Ryerson's lawn this week.

Joan Poland, great-grandmother, Lynda Poland, grandmother and Terry Merrill, great aunt are flying to Arizona soon to be there for the birth of a daughter to Diana Dunn. Diana is the daughter of Todd and Lynda Poland, West Paris, and Terri Angevine, Bethel.

Kellie Record is coming along nicely since her recent operation. She'll be out of work for two more weeks.

One day this past week Kellie Record, Jessie Hart, Sarah Lynch and I got together to go over a large box of Barbie things from Jessie and Sarah's childhood years. We had fun looking at more than 35 Barbie dolls and clothes and other articles related to Barbie. We had lunch of pizza and ice cream. We all had a good time and many laughs.

Larry Billings, curator of the Woodstock Historical Society, reports that the society held its flea market day July 10. About 60 people signed the guest book. Vicki May organized the event. The evening Ruth Cox gave a research report called, "The Vets Cemetery." Kathleen Bean supplied a video on Vermont, "Let's go to the Farm." It was a long but fruitful day.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that if you leave clothes in the ironing pile long enough, you'll outgrow them and you can sell them in a yard sale."

We sure have had a lot of cloudy and rainy days lately.

Fred and Mandie Curtis and daughters, Akayla and Felecia, and their friend, Hannah Huston, Albert and Roberta, and sons, William and Albert III, Jason Curtis, Albert and Marie Curtis and I went camping to the Cathedral Pines for the weekend. Also, we all attended the Thomas Wyman 66th reunion. We had a good crowd. It turned out to be a real nice day.

I had to get a new hot water tank this week. Mine got to leaking so had to lay a new floor under it. Albert got it all fixed for me. Marie did what she could. Thanks to both of them, I have my water back again.

Condolences go to Albert Penley's family on his passing. Our thoughts and prayers are with them. He is a great loss to everyone. He has done a lot for the public in a lot of different ways and will be missed.

Anita and Wayne Hakala saw two moose by Hick's Pond today.

Ann and Bradley Payne had dinner Friday night at Bethel Inn. Saturday, they went for lunch at Sunday River, then drove up to Grafton Notch and came back over the Height of Land.

Ann Holt visited her aunt Clis Friday. Sunday, Ann cooked dinner for her folks, Leonas and Fay Holt, and took it over to them. She is a very thoughtful person.

A thought to remember, "The surest way to dig up the past is to search for something in the attic."

That's it for this time. Hope you have a safe and happy week.

North Newry

by
Gil Seeley

Thought for the week: "Personal liberty is the paramount essential to human dignity, and human happiness."

Call to worship was held Sunday morning, July 11, at 9 a.m., at the Newry Community Church with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ.

Thought for the day by Sue Wight, "The Cause of Freedom, is the Cause of God." Scripture readings by the Faithfuls.

The message of the day was, "Freedom," from St. Luke 11:17. "But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth." A prayer followed, Holy Communion, The Lord's Prayer, hymn sung, benediction, postlude, amen.

Karlene Bachelder and I took to the road Tuesday morning, July 13, at around 7:30 a.m., to go pay a visit with her husband Ras at his retirement place in Wiscasset.

Almost right away we were slowed down by the road workers repairing them. We finally made it to Winthrop after a few detours. Then to Wiscasset and got to see Ras about 11 a.m. Spent a few hours with him and came back without any trouble. The work on the roads was done and the men had gone home.

What a day. It was almost 7 p.m. by then.

Our most sincere condolences go out this week to the family of Albert Penley Sr. He was truly a pillar of our town. When I was a little girl, he was one of the owners of Penley's Mill, and my father's boss and good friend. He and Dad were both staunch Red Sox fans. I remember one of the horses Albert had by the name of "Foxy Grapes." She was as beautiful a horse as you could ever see and she ran like the wind. I remember going to Albert and Marietta's house, as a child, with my Dad. Their son, Albert Jr. and his wife Charmaine live on High Street and Douglas (his grandson) and his wife Michelle (and his great-grandson, Tyler) live on the Greenwood Road here in West Paris. I enjoyed going up and chatting with Albert Sr., especially about books and Alaska. He sure will be missed by us all. Albert and my Dad were always good friends. My thoughts and prayers are with the family.

On Saturday afternoon, several of us had the pleasure of taking part in the Poetry Reading on the steps of the Norway Public Library as part of the Norway Art Summer Festival. This was a great deal of fun. Earlier, Lona and Bill Bedard and David Sander-son performed at the "Weary" Club, further up Main Street, commemorating the memory of Mellie Dunham (Lona's grandfather).

On Sunday evening, at the West Paris Baptist Church, we had the pleasure of listening to our missionaries to Thailand, Mike and Sue Haney, as they told us of their work over there. Their endeavors are both with teaching English and teaching the Bible in Bangkok and the surrounding areas. Sue has a prison ministry as well. They set up a display with photos of a map and two photo albums for us to peruse, and to see what it is like over there. Sue wore a ceremonial gown from that area. It was beautiful. A lot of work went into making it.

We learned a lot about their life's work over there. It was really interesting and inspiring.

The West Paris Senior Citizens cookout has been changed from Tuesday, Aug. 3, to Tuesday, Aug. 10 at the 35 Church Street home of its president, Bertha DeHaas. This will be followed by a business meeting and program.

The West Paris Daily Vacation Bible School will be held at the West Paris Baptist and Mission Congregational churches from Monday, Aug. 2, through Friday, Aug. 6, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Members of both churches and the Child Evangelism Fellowship will present the program.

Mrs. Mary Standard is in charge of the program and will be assisted by members of both churches. The closing program will be on the evening of Friday, Aug. 6, at 7 p.m. at the West Paris Baptist Church. For more information, call Mary at 388-3041 or me at 674-3046.

It has been hot and muggy with evening thunderstorms. Our gardens are in ecstasy. Tasha and I prefer it a little cooler. David loves the heat but could do with less humidity. The garden, however, is looking lush and green.

We are eating broccoli, hot peppers and lettuce and radishes. Soon the chard will be up. The squash plants look lush but no flowers as of yet. Probably too early and too hot. Carrots are coming. Tomatoes are ripening. All else is still green. The corn even got knee high by the 4th of July and is now waist high — that is some of it is. I should explain that those measurements are on me, not David. Cheating, well not really, my knees are as valid as anyone's if a little lower than some.

The flowers are also coming in well. There are daylilies, an assortment of wild flowers that we planted, (if you plant wild flowers are they still wild?) pansies, and more in the rear of the house. I am waiting for the purple cone-flower to bloom.

The latest data from Oxford County Recycling finds the Waterford Transfer Station tied for first place (with Bethel) in terms of amount of cardboard recycled. Unfortunately, this weekend we had to punt because they did not empty our bins and we had to put almost one full cardboard bin in the hopper. We were not pleased.

Everyone has been so great about recycling. We have tripled what we did at this time last year. Thanks to all. We especially have to recognize Bob Kimball for all his great work. Jay and I help, but he is the principal worker in recycling.

We have made two trips to Portland in the last week. A change for those of us who might go every six to 12 months or so. David is happy because we always go to Micucci's for stuffed peppers. He loves them and so do his friends. He buys buckets and shares with all who are brave enough.

The Waterford World's Fair is coming up this weekend. It runs from July 23 thru 25. On Friday, the 23rd, there is a Ladies Skillet Throwing Contest and a Men's Couch Potato Race. Friday evening, Brian Wardwell will perform. Saturday evening, Melissa Remillard performs. Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. there will be a pig roast. All three days there is a midway.

Admission is $3, $2.50 with a donation to the food pantry. Sounds like an enjoyable time for all.

The Summer Fest continues. There will be a concert on Aug. 1 at the Waterford Congregational Church on Plummer Hill. Featured will be the Vocal Solution with Forest Perkins, organist, and Renee Wales, flutist. It is a $10 donation.

Phil Buckert's Memorial Service will be held on July 24 at 11 a.m. at the Waterford Congregational Church.

Waterford Library Book Discussion Group continues. There will be a meeting on Wednesday, July 28, at 10:30 a.m. The book will be "The Master Butcher's Singing Club" by Louise Erdrich. On Aug. 25 they will discuss "The Known World" by Edward Jones.

I am busy trying to get buyers for our metal and to grind our wood, both brush and stumps. I'd like to separate our construction wood and get that ground or at least offer it for woodstoves for the winter. Any ideas would be welcome. I give up on Maine Metal because they only take part of the pile and leave a big mess.

We did not make it to Molloykett Day or Harrison Old Home Days. We had to work. We probably won't make it to the World's Fair. I expect we'd enjoy it if we did. Perhaps we'll get out of work and have enough energy to go.

Thursday, the 28th, is the Mountain Poets July meeting. All are welcome. Someone did call to see if we'd allow light fiction. The answer is yes, to short fiction pieces. Unfortunately, we lost her name and number. So if that was you call again.

That is all for this week. Have a great week and enjoy the falls.

Albany

by Dana &
Sheila Dyke

Greetings and hello from Albany Township. We understand that the sun peaked through this weekend (we were away) for a rather nice weekend, with a down-pour and high winds later Saturday evening. All over we keep hearing people wishing and hoping for actual summer weather. It's bound to happen — it is, after all, summer. The lawns are all looking very green (gotta think positive).

There have been a lot of turkey sightings, along with their little ones, out in the fields, on the sides of the roads, crossing the roads. Wendy Meader told Sheila the other day that she and Max spotted a bunch of adults and their babies in the fields near her home, and they looked like big spots on the ground. These turkeys are big birds, so, you'll want to be careful when driving. They can do some damage to your vehicle.

The Albany Church's supper will be held this Thursday, July 22, starting at 5:30 p.m. You will want to be sure to give yourself plenty of time as it is usually filled to capacity before 5:30. There usually is a second seating, so, if you miss the 5:30 seating, there will be another at 6 or so. The cost is $6 per adult, $3 per child. It's worth the price — wonderful home-cooked meals and fresh baked pies.

As we mentioned, we went to Connecticut this past weekend for a CMA rally. Dana rode his bike; Sheila drove her car. Sheila missed riding her bike, most especially as she was in the middle of the "column" and watched as bikers in the on-coming lane would wave to Jim and Marie Davis, then Dana, and then put their hand down at her car, and then wave to Pam and Carlton Rugg riding behind her. She kept wanting to put her hand up to wave, but our daughter would tell her not to do that as they'd just think she was weird. Something about bike riders: we'd say (in our most unscientific research) that about nine out of ten riders will wave to other riders; you don't see other Ford Escort drivers waving to each other on the road, or BMW owners raising a hand to another Beamer driving by. Whether Hondas or Harleys, touring bikes, choppers or crotch rockets, usually the bikers will wave.

Our best for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep.

A public hearing will be held at 7 p.m., Saturday, July 24, at the Town Hall to discuss three issues. Selectmen want to know if the town wants them to act on a subdivision for Steve Caswell. They also want to know if residents want them to purchase land by the river (Androscoggin) that is now the boat landing. The third question is whether selectmen should look into purchasing property, owned by Gerald Loring, next to the Town Hall.

An e-mail was received from Aline Dupont with news of Gerard Dupont and his family. She writes: "Gerard Dupont and daughter Aline Dupont went to Sherbrooke, Canada to visit Hermance Bolduc (sister of Edna Dupont) for the day. Michael Dupont (grandson of Gerard Dupont and son of Andre Dupont, Gorham, N.H.) is stationed in Iraq. He said the only entertainment he has is receiving e-mails from people. His e-mail is Baghdadbuck@yahoo.com. Please e-mail him if you get a chance."

The Fire Department reported that they set up their booth and had a great time on the Bethel Common at Mollycokett Day. There were two Gilead fire trucks (driven by Steve McLain and Dan Cole) in the parade.

The arrival of the new fire truck is getting closer. Paperwork for funding was done on June 28. Fernand and Beverly Coriveau, and Hugh and I went to Lewiston because Fernand (selectman) and I (town clerk) had to sign for the town.

To make this column work and continue, I need news. Call 836-2987 or e-mail chapmal@hotmail.com

Perham Road off High Street has turned into a wildlife park. A large bear visits often. Peg and Joe Perham have removed their birdfeeders in hopes of discouraging the bears, but they still come. Granddaughter Meryl and great-granddaughter Naiya from Florida were well entertained last week when the bear showed up at 8 a.m. and put on a good show for all. He drank from the birdbath and then sat in the flowerbed.

Turkeys are plentiful on their lawns, too. They have three adults and about 20 young ones. Granddaughter Jara Givinski and great-granddaughter Nadja are looking out for the Perham house while Joe and Peg are in Alaska. They left Friday morning early and plan to drive across Southern Canada and up the coast to Alaska. Richard and Mona Grover and Snuffy will accompany them. If all goes well they will spend several weeks in Alaska and be back in September. All wish them a good vacation.

Beverly and Vince Stevens and Georgia Thayer spent the weekend in Wilson's Mills at Azisacos Camp Grounds visiting with Beverly and Roger Thayer.

At the West Sumner Universalist Church on Sunday, July 25, Dr. Kenneth Hamilton will speak on "What's New." A social hour follows.

The black-eyed susan that grows up through the hot top between the garage doors is again doing very well. There are a dozen blossoms fully out with about 20 buds swelling ready to do their thing. Two years ago it was tall and full of blossoms, but only grew to about three inches tall with few blossoms last summer. I have no idea what makes it grow or not grow. I did not expect it to do much this year but it surprised me.

We were all saddened with the death of Albert Penley last week. He was 95 years old and was well known and loved by the whole community. His service was held in the Universalist Church and burial was in Elmwood Cemetery in Otisfield.

Buffy still likes to be outside even in the dew and rain. He prefers napping under the lawn chair or in the cool grass. The small woodchuck comes out on the lawn to nibble clover and he and Buffy just look at one another. Neither attempts to bother the other.

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Come join us for July's Business After Hours at Bethel Outdoor Adventure and Campground tonight, Thursday, July 22, from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Here are all the reasons to attend.

— Visit with their incredible work force.

— Be the first to try your hand at the latest craze in Bethel: sluicing. This is a collaboration between BOA and Mountain Mann Jewelers. It is a way to showcase and try something that has been a hallmark of this region for decades. Jim Mann will be available to explain all you find.

— Try a little "trail mix" while we chat on the porch.

— Witness and chat with the crew of H. E. Sargent as they relax with us over a pig roast.

— Try a kayak. The fastest growing water sport, and we have a great location to practice. Easy access, good swift water, a few rocks and eddies and eddy lines. Great fun.

— Take a swim in the river. Only the brave will do this, but they will be rewarded.

It's hard to believe that another Mollycokett Day has come and gone...but the chamber would like to commend Vicki Rackliffe and the Mahosuc Arts Council for doing such a great job. Our chamber events were a great success and you will see two thank-you ads, one for the duck race and one for the Key Bank Mollycokett Day Classic and lobster roll booth combined. Many individuals are to be thanked for their time and efforts.

This Sunday is the 13th annual Maine State Triathlon Classic, sponsored by Oxford Networks and Powerade. The event starts at 8 a.m. at the Bethel Inn boathouse facility on Songo Pond. The bicyclists will be starting to tear into the village via Vernon Street at about 8:45 — so there may be traffic delays as the Bethel Police manage the event as well as vehicular traffic. The event finishes up at Gould Academy. We expect nearly 300 competitors and members of their families to arrive in Bethel on Saturday and Sunday morning. Many thanks to Sunday River Ski Resort for being our host hotel and donating the majority of our prizes.

Mundt-Allen Post

On Tuesday evening, July 13, Bethel Post 81 held its annual recognition dinner honoring this year's Boys' and Girls' State delegates. Seven of the eight delegates sponsored by the post from the SAD44 area were present with family members and friends. Girls' State delegate Jessica James was unable to attend due to out-of-state employment, but reported her experience to be very rewarding.

In addition to the students, Ross Parker, Megan Bailey, Matthew Mills, Anika Barton, Frank Emerson, Clayton Smith and Lauren Barletta, the post also welcomed the American Legion State of Maine Department commander, Gene Bickford, and his wife Joyce; American Legion Auxiliary District 2 President Edith Lemieux and her husband Ray and American Legion Oxford County Commander Jerry Greenwell, and his wife Jeri.

Prior to the dinner, Post Commander Richard Farren, led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, following presentation of a flag sent to the post by member Ernie Aguilar now serving in Iraq. That was followed by reading of a poem about the flag, written by Ernie.

After the dinner, Americanism officer Don Feeney conducted a question and answer session with the delegates concerning their experiences and perceptions of the Boys/Girls State programs. The responses were enlightening, to say the least, and the evening, including the delicious meal, was much enjoyed.

Oxford County Democrats

The Oxford County Democrats provided a major presence at Bethel's Mollycokett Day Parade on Saturday, with two floats, and more than 30 participants of varied ages marching and riding. Senator Bruce Bryant and Representative John Patrick led the contingent, accompanied by Tim Trafford of the Michaud for Congress campaign, Tim Carter of Bethel, candidate for the House of Representatives, and Cathy Newell, Oxford County Democratic chairperson.

Throughout the day the Democrats welcomed people to their booth on the common, which was stocked with a variety of materials from the John Kerry campaign, Mike Michaud's campaign and the local races. Booth volunteers included Cathy and Charlie Newell, Tim and Jodi Carter, and Mike and Eileen Broderick. Henry and Pat Stewart provided logistical support in setting up the booth. Upcoming events for the county Democrats include the County Democrats meeting on Thursday, July 22, at the Mexico Town Hall at 5:30 p.m. for potluck supper and 6:30 p.m. for the meeting; the caucus for District 100 on Friday, July 23, at 6:30 p.m. at the Otisfield Town Hall; and several Kerry/Edwards house parties on Thursday, July 29. For information on the house parties, see www.johnkerry.com.

the 40th anniversary of the Wilderness Act, Ranger Matthew Schomburg will discuss the Great Gulf and the special attributes of Wilderness.

Meet in the basement of AMC's Pinkham Notch Visitor Center on Route 16 south of Gorham, N.H., at 9:30 a.m.

The hike is 4.6 miles round trip, of moderate difficulty, and will take about five hours. The hike is free of charge and open to all. Dress for the weather, wear sturdy shoes, and bring plenty of water and a lunch.

Space is limited and reservations must be made on the morning of the hike. For more information, directions, and reservations call the U.S. Forest Service at (603) 466-2713, TTY (603) 466-2856.

Bethel Senior Citizens

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met July 14 at the Locke Mills Town Hall for their dinner and meeting with 22 members present. Vice-President Ginny Walker conducted the meeting and led the salute to the flag.

Reports were given by Jane Hosterman and Arlene Lowell. The next meeting will be Aug. 11 at Powell's Campground at Hanover and will be the picnic. Members will bring either a salad or a dessert to share. The club will furnish hot dogs and hamburgers.

Barbara Mahler explained how the calling list works.

The door prize was won by Barbara Patterson.

Several members had interesting items for the "Show and Tell" program. Barbara Mahler read a humorous story.

July birthdays are: Luna Akers, Joyce Bennett, Barbara Honkala, Nancy Kimball, Nancy Mercer, Raymond Saunders, Ginny Walker, Earlon Paine, Bernice Trefethen and Rebecca Ricker.

From the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

On July 31 at 7 p.m., the Bethel Historical Society will host the 26-member Yankee Brass Band, which will provide a one and half hour concert on the grounds of the Dr. Moses Mason House, weather permitting, or at the Congregational Church.

Those wishing to make a day of historical experience on July 31 may wish to attend the Rumford and Mexico historical societies' Country Fair, which will feature a Civil War encampment, drill and parade at Rumford Center, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., come for a traditional church supper at the West Bethel Union Church at 5:30 p.m. and follow that up with the Yankee Brass Band concert at the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center.

The society's newest exhibit, "Molly Ockett and Her World," opened on Molly Ockett Day at the society's O'Neil Robinson House. It will be open each day until Labor Day from 1 to 4 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday and in the morning Tuesday through Friday 10 a.m. to noon.

The 25th annual Sudbury Canada Days, summer heritage festival of the Bethel Historical Society, will be held this year on Aug. 13-15, with a wide variety of activities celebrating the New England past. For further information, please call the society at 824-2908.

Nearly 1,200 members strong, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations. Since 1974, the society has operated from its 14 Broad Street headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House.

Obituaries

ARTHUR E. CHAYER

Arthur Eugene Chayer, Lieutenant, United States Navy (Retired), 80, died in Tucson, Ariz., on July 13, 2004. Father to many, grandfather and great-grandfather to many more, husband to the late Elizabeth Lyle Lowell of Bethel and Bjorg Sellevaag Olsen of Hudson.

He was born in Milan, N.H., on Sept. 15, 1923, to the late Eugene and Myrtle Chayer of Bethel.

Arthur was a 25-year veteran of the United States Navy, served in World War II and the Korean War.

He was a man who started from humble beginnings raised in the woods of Maine by his father after the death of his mother at an early age. He graduated from Gould Academy in Bethel and entered the Navy immediately thereafter. He was assigned duties as a Yeoman and achieved the rank of Yeoman Chief Petty Officer. Chief Chayer later applied for, and was accepted into, the Limited Duty Officer Program and, upon completion, was commissioned Ensign, United States Navy. Lieutenant Chayer served on ships at sea including, as plank owner, the USS Dewey and the USS Essex, as well as various admirals' staffs and other shore stations.

Arthur's first wife, Elizabeth, bore him seven children. Upon her death he retired from the Navy and returned home to Maine to rear his family. Years later he met the second jewel of his life Bjorg, who had four children of her own. Arthur and Bjorg married and settled in Caribou, where he was the director of a local nursing home. While Arthur and Bjorg did not have children together, they together raised their children.

Arthur's legacy is the pride, honor, self-determination and sense of family he instilled in his children. His love, his wit and his charm will be missed.

His eleven children, Cynthia Salisbury, Cherie Whitworth, Linwood (wife Jan), Bente (husband Bruce Fadden), Lars Olsen (wife Chris), Sid (husband Roger Michaud), Wanda (husband Myron Hale), Kevin (wife Regina), Sean (wife JoAnn Machacek), Julie Kresge, and Karen (husband Tom Olsen), survive him. Twenty-six grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren survive Arthur, as well as a sister, Mabel Peare.

The family will hold a simple and private service with military honors at a later date. Donations in Arthur's name may be made to your favorite charity if desired.

MARY ARLEN TRIPP

Mary Arlene Tripp, 87, died in Rumford on July 17, 2004.

She was born in Bethel on Sept. 18, 1916, the daughter of Robert and Bertha G. (Weeks) Bean. She was educated in Newry schools and graduated from Gould Academy in 1935.

She was a homemaker and lived in Newry most of her life, except for several years when she worked for Coe & Annis in Hartford, Conn. She was a tax collector for the town of Newry for nearly a quarter of a century.

She is survived by one daughter, Suzanne Hayner of Newry; one son, Peter Baker of Hanover; two sisters, Ernestine McDonald of Hartford, Conn., and Jane Young of Bethel; five grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her husband, Roy Tripp in 1975; one brother, Robert; and four sisters, Frances Gunther, Winifred Scott, Pauline Chapin and Ina Carey.

Graveside services will be held at the Sunday River Cemetery on Sunday, Aug. 8, at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Rodney Hanscom officiating. Memorials in her memory may be made to the Alzheimer's Disease Foundation, 163 Lancaster Street, Suite 160B, Portland, ME 04101.

WESTON HENRY JR.

Weston W. "Mike" Henry Jr. of Bethel, formerly of North Dighton, Mass., died Thursday, July 15, 2004 of cancer.

He was born Nov. 11, 1941, in Raynham, Mass., and was a graduate of Bristol Aggie High School in Berkeley, Mass. He worked for Texas Instruments in Attleboro, Mass., for 25 years.

He was an enthusiast of stock car racing. He also was an avid drawer and painter.

He was the husband of Judith L. Henry for 40 years; father of Tracy L. Hayes and her husband Ronald of Foxboro, Mass., Erin K. Henry and her husband John Murphy of Columbus, Ohio, and Kelly L. Yzaguirre and her husband Lorenzo of Tampa, Fla.; a sister, Dee Scully, of Taunton, Mass.; many nieces and nephews; and was the PePe of Shannon, Melissa, Ryan Hayes and Shay Murphy.

There will be no funeral services at this time.

Weddings

Mr. & Mrs. Evan Hutchison

Marie E. Ward of Carthage, daughter of Tammy Ward of Peru, and Evan Hutchison of Carthage, son of Garey Hutchison of Carthage were married on Saturday, June 19, in Dixfield at an outdoor ceremony by the pond at the home of the groom's aunt.

The bride wore a long, beaded, short-sleeved dress with train. Her headband was a tiara of flowers.

Bridesmaid was Brea Drakus of Andover. Tarsha Hutchison of Carthage served as flower girl. Ring bearers were Evan Jr. and Skyla Hutchison of Carthage, sons of the groom. Best man was the groom's brother, Dennis Hutchison.

News and photos from clubs and organizations

The Citizen welcomes submissions of news items and photographs from local clubs and organizations.

The deadline for clubs and organizational items is noon Monday, but earlier submission is appreciated.

All news articles should be typed or printed legibly, and include the name and daytime telephone number of a contact person.

Submissions can be dropped off at The Citizen office (behind the Bethel Town Office) or mailed to P.O. Box 109, Bethel, ME, 04217.

During non-business hours, items can be placed in the mailbox outside our office. For further information, call 824-2444. News and photos can also be submitted by e-mail: news@bethelcitizen.com.

Returns: Due to the volume of material passing through our office, we cannot be responsible for unsolicited submissions.
